NEW USE FOR FRANKS.

Ten years ago the Milwaukee Free Press came into existence as a purely political organ for the radical republicans of the state. For many years it followed blindly the lead of the "Master," and then it awoke to the fact that all that was not gold that glittered, and changed its opinion of life and politics generally. Today it is a conservative newspaper as any in the state and doing all it can to undo the work accomplished under the mistaken idea of reform in past years. It now takes up the question of Senator La Follette and his use of his senatorial frank, and says:
"Senator La Follette announces in his weekly newspaper that he will tell the truth about the postal deficit and suggest the remedies. The postoffice department is conducted at an enormous loss, he says, and it is a matter that comes directly home to every citizen, 'who has to dig down in his pocket to pay his share of that $17,000,000 loss.' There is a scold reason for it, 'one not pleasant to tell about it,' but the senator is going to do it."
"In the same issue of his newspaper, the senator announces that every subscriber to La Follette's Weekly will receive a copy of Senator Burke's speech on Oregon's experience with progressive legislation. It is sent to the paper's subscribers under Senator La Follette's frank at the expense of the postoffice department, without expense to himself or his newspaper."
"This is opening up a new line of congressional graft with possibilities almost beyond the reach of the imagination. If other senators and representatives follow Mr. La Follette's example, Congressmen need only arrange with friendly newspapers and all the speeches which now adorn the congressional record may be unloaded on newspaper subscribers, and circulated at government expense. The postal deficit would soon reach new and unthought-of altitudes."
"We have always been told that at least one of the chief causes of the postal deficit was the abuse of the franking privilege, and we are afraid that the Wisconsin senator, while he may write and talk about the causes of it, has himself opened up a new channel for unprecedented raids on the treasury. We can only imagine what a speech he might have made in congress if Senator Aldrich or Speaker Cannon had first made use of their congressional franks to circulate their speeches as newspaper pre-ludes at the expense of the postoffice department."

WHY DOES A HEN?

An exchange brings up the old question, "Why does a hen cross the road?" only it uses it in a varied form. It states that various theories are entertained among automobilists and people who ride in autos with regard to the tendency of the hen to permit itself to be chased by the machine rather than to escape it by turning to the right or to the left. Some of these theories are quite plausible, but none is entirely satisfactory. Close observers of the hen have noted that a woman wearing a checked gingham apron is alone capable of showing a hen in the direction that it is desirable that the hen shall take, and that the more a man strives to show the hen in any direction, the more determined and successful are her efforts to escape through his outstretched legs.

One able writer on the mistake of the hen in running ahead of the automobile undertakes to account for it by holding that the hen assumes that the people in the machine have come all the way from the city for the sole purpose of trying to catch her, and as who has never previously been caught in this manner, is it doubtful regarding the sensation that would follow her capture, she makes up her mind on the impulse of the moment to give the city people in the auto a run for their money.
Now, this theory on its face seems reasonable enough. So does the theory that the hen prefers to keep in front of the automobile to avoid the odor of the gasoline. But the real explanation of her apparent eccentricity, as the reader perhaps has already suspected, is that the hen regards the automobile as some new kind of man and expects him to spread his legs as usual and let her pass through. Of course, in this the hen is mistaken, but that is not so much her fault as it is the fault of the constructor of the machine, who might have designed it so that when engaged in a hen chase the hen could pass through an opening in the middle of it to the rear. Either the auto should be changed to meet this exigency, or it should display in front, when traveling through country roads, a checked gingham apron. At the appearance of this signal the average hen would collect her thoughts before the auto got too close and make tracks toward her coop.

OLD GLORY.

Since the foundation of our government the national flag has been changed in form no less than twenty-three times. These changes have been mainly, of course, in the number and arrangement of the stars, but there have been two important changes in the stripes. Originally, as everybody knows, they were thirteen, thereby representing the thirteen colonies. The stars were also at the beginning thirteen in number. With the admission of two states the stars and stripes were each increased in number to fifteen. The stripes were soon after, however, fixed at thirteen, and there has been no departure since from this number. The stars have changed in number meanwhile to twenty, to twenty-one, to twenty-two, by ones to twenty-six, to twenty-eight, by ones to thirty-eight, to forty-three and by ones to forty-six. The number is now to be increased to forty-eight, and many insist that this is the end of the changes. They hold, since there are no more territories to be admitted as states, the flag must be considered finished.
Yet Alaska, though non-contiguous, is a territory, and, moreover, prolific in surprises as well as in possibilities. When all is said, we know very little yet about this vast domain or what may be done for it through the process of modern development. Some day in the not too distant future it may ask for representation among the stars of our flag. Then, again, there is Porto Rico and there is Hawaii already entertaining, and fondly cherishing, the thought that they may some day become states of the union. We have not reached the point where we can say that in the making of the nation all is done.

The contest for district attorney promises to be a merry one but devoid of that partisanship which makes it necessary to throw mud and cause unpleasantness between the candidates and their friends. Both Mr. Dunwiddie and Mr. Hennigway are gentlemen and it is hoped that they will not have to resort to this kind of billingsgate warfare. Throughout the county the many friends of the late Judge Dunwiddie are flocking to the support of his son, and the prospects for his nomination grow brighter each week.

It is becoming almost an impossibility to secure signatures to the nomination papers for various candidates so many papers are in circulation. What an improvement upon the old caucus and convention system? In those days men took no active interest in politics and today it is a business all by itself this securing names for candidates, and a good one, financially, for the paid workers.

The summer capital of Wisconsin is at Lake Koshong. If all the visitors to the home of Governor Davidson at this pretty lake go to talk politics they will find that the scenery and the air and the sparkling waters will drive the most cherished plans out of their heads. It beats Beverly or Oyster Bay for scenery and is right here at home, too.

Wallace Ingalls of Racine, who is Cooper's opponent in the republican congressional race, feels certain that when the voters of the district understand this campaign is Taft and anti-Taft, not personal state politics, they will view Cooper's candidacy in a different light from what they do now.

Secretary Dickinson is learning the ten habit most rapidly from our friends, the Japs, but when he gets over to the Philippines he should beware lest the Japs get after him with their bolos.

Caruso is much more of a success in the role of the stage lover than he is in actual life. The disclosure of his trial marriage has taken some of the phases of the monkey house episode.

Roosevelt's nephew is to try for a seat in congress. If he is successful then son-in-law Longworth will have the strain somewhat relieved.

Kind words have no effect upon the flies. They regard the kind words as merely an invitation to bite harder and faster than ever.

Pinchot states who will not start a new party as he fears it would please his friend, Ballinger, too much if he did.

Uncle Walt
THE POET PHILOSOPHER
By WALT MASON.
(Copyright, 1900, by George Mathew Adams.)

You are wasting your lives! Like the bees in their lives you work for the large silver wheel; and you stick to the job till your nerves are a-throb, and life is run down at the head. With mulling have done! Get out in the sun and take from Dame Nature a fall; if your future seems dark, chase yourself to the park, and look at the fellows play ball. I used to be tied to a desk, twenty-eyed and longed for release from life's ills; I anchored my hope to the horse doctor's dose, and filled up my hours with pills. Then a friend came along—'he was fearless and strong, and he carried me off, ground and all, and I sat on a board, and I howled and I roared as the boys on the diamond played ball. Now I'd think it a shame if I should miss a game and I go at my labors with vim; and my liver's all right, and my nerves are a-sight, and the dose is no more in the swim. When you're feeling too old and all covered with mold, and your picture seems turned to the wall, hire a livery sharp and go out to the park, and look at the fellows play ball!

Heart to Heart
Talks.
By EDWIN A. NYE.

TO A FATHER.
You say Jimmie is twelve.
Then it is high time, if you have not already done so, to become Jimmie's chum.

It was all right for his mother to have charge of him so long as he was more baby than boy. He could tell her everything, and she could help him in everything. She knew where he was and what he was doing.

It is different now.
"The boy is big enough to be called 'James,' and secretly he yearns for long trousers. Unconsciously, maybe, but surely, he is tugging to get loose from his mother's apron strings.

He begins to be a man.
This is your opportunity to get close to him. Jimmie wants a mate to talk to and confide in. You can be that mate if you want to be.

Jimmie would rather be your sworn pal than to take up with any other person on earth. It would please him mightily.
The danger is this:
He may become either ashamed or afraid to confide in you. And if he is either he may consult some harem scum of the street.

Some fathers, altogether too dignified or stern, proceed on the theory that the son must recognize the parental authority, and they lay down the law and punish the least infraction of it. They believe that will keep the boy straight.

It will doubtless keep him from wrongdoing—where it can be found out.

You see, the danger is that Jimmie, being afraid of you, may become a sneak. He will not tell you the truth. He will deceive you. And Jimmie is likely to become not only a sneak, but a liar.

Also—
If Jimmie is ashamed to tell you about some things he may do things of which he ought to be ashamed.

My dear sir, you may so have the confidence of your son that he will tell you everything—everything! Nothing is too delicate for father and son to discuss—if they are chums.

Jimmie must know from some source the things you know about life. How much better you should tell him than some other! Do you want your boy to face temptations ignorantly or wrongly instructed?

What are you in the world for anyway?

To make money for Jimmie?

Not.

You are in the world to help your boy make a man of himself—a man as good as you are or better.

For that are you a father.
And if Jimmie fails to make a good man it will largely be your fault and your shame. But if he succeeds! Why, that will be the joy and triumph of your life.

Revenge.

There is a quality of possible revenge in having stuck like a porous plaster to an unworthy friend. It hurts him all right when you do pull away finally.—Puck.

FLIES OVER GOTHAM IN DARK.

Broadway Becomes Howling Mob When Aviator Makes Night Trip.

New York, July 20.—The first trip after dark over New York in a flying machine of any kind was made last night by Frank Goodale, the boy aviator, who came from Palisade Park, N. J. The aviator set a large part of the population of the upper part of Manhattan hysterical. He turned Broadway into a howling, enthusiastic mob. Every cafe and restaurant was emptied. Cars were stopped, the streets blocked and the roofs packed. Over them all and twice around the Times tower the man, in a dirigible about fifty feet long, circled twice and then returned to Jersey.

BROWN-BIGELOW PLANT BURNS.

St. Paul Advertising Concern Suffers $100,000 Loss by Fire.

St. Paul, Minn., July 20.—The manufacturing plant of Brown & Bigelow, one of the largest advertising novelty concerns in the United States, was damaged to the amount of probably $100,000 by a fire. The Continental hotel, in the same block, was saved by the fire wall, but the guests hurriedly vacated their rooms. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

German Singers in Omaha.

Omaha, Neb., July 20.—Omaha throw open her doors today to hundreds of German singers who have come to attend the national singefest of the Saengerbund of the Northwest. The sessions and concerts will continue for four days and elaborate musical programs will be rendered. Many social affairs will enliven the meeting. Otto W. Rohlfed of St. Paul is president of the association.

TRAIN KILLS ENTIRE FAMILY.

Mr. N. J. McEvilly, Wife and Daughter Are Victims.

Aurora, Ill., July 20.—An entire family, father, mother and little daughter, were killed here when the Freeport passenger train on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad struck their automobile at Peck's Crossing, near Lombard.

The victims, two of whom were killed instantly, were Mr. and Mrs. N. J. McEvilly and daughter Mary, all of Dysart, Ia.

ROCKEFELLER'S TAX IS RAISED

Cleveland Appraisers Make Heavy Increases on John D.'s Property.

Cleveland, O., July 20.—John D. Rockefeller's taxes on his Forest Hill estate have been increased 500 per cent, and it is expected he will make a big fight for a gigantic reduction before the county board of equalization. The new valuation placed on the oil king's property is $1,416,930, whereas in 1900, it was only $252,250.

BABY DIES OF MOSQUITO BITE.

Death Ends Infant's Suffering as Poison Spreads Over Body.

Rockford, Ill., July 20.—Everett Keast, seven-month-old son of Fred Keast, died from the effects of a mosquito bite inflicted last Friday. In some manner the bite became infected and the poison spread to the entire body, the infant growing gradually worse until death ensued.

BIG CROWDS GREET PINCHOT.

Ex-Forester DeUvers First California Address in Frisco.

San Francisco, July 20.—Gifford Pinchot made his first speech in California in behalf of Uram Johnson, the Lincoln-Roosevelt league candidate for the republican gubernatorial nomination. So large was the crowd that destined to hear the former chief forester that he was forced to address an overflow meeting afterward.

Mr. Pinchot made no direct reference to Secretary Ballinger, but several times referred to "the man whose name I do not mention in public addresses."

Macon, Ga., July 20.—Shortly before the Klondike gold boom W. V. Miller, a motorman, met J. F. Curley, a miner, stranded and without funds. He took him in, fed him, and gave him money to pay his fare as far as Birmingham.

That was the last ever heard of Curley until he received word the miner had died in Dawson City, Alaska, and left him a fortune estimated at $500,000.

INDICT 13 IN ELECTION PROBE.

Springfield Grand Jurors Accuse Many Officials at Polls.

Springfield, Ill., July 20.—Indictments were returned by the Sangamon county grand jury against 13 judges and clerks who officiated in the park board election of May 17 last. State Attorney Burke conducted an exhaustive examination into the charges of debauchery of the elective franchise resulting in the indictments.

Many of the indicted men are present employees of the park board and others are former city officials.

Woman Eats Four Dabes.

Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo, July 20.—The disappearance of Dominican children near the Haytian frontier has been explained by the horrible confession of a Haytian woman that she had murdered them, eating four.

Suicide Days.

Life insurance returns show that more suicides take place on Tuesday and Thursday than on other days.

Indiana County Loses in Census.

"Nero Fiddled While Rome Was Burning"

This was criminal indifference. Are you "fiddling" as regards your fire insurance? In other words do you accept the policy of any company your agent hands you without investigating its strength, its record and history. Many of our companies have been doing business 100 years or more; they will be doing business 100 years from now. It's your property which is to be insured, your money pays the premium. In any other transaction involving as much money, you would use great care and precaution. We have on file the record and financial standing of all companies. JANESVILLE CITY STREET CAR LINE TO BE REHABILITATED.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

Held Yesterday and Much of the Stock Was Represented in Person or by Proxy—Important Decision Reached.

At the special meeting of the stockholders of the Janesville Street Railway company held pursuant to notice at the office of Thos. S. Nolan, 311-313 Jackson building, yesterday afternoon, three hundred and eighty-seven (387) shares out of a total of five hundred (500) shares of the capital stock of the company were represented, either in person or by proxy. The meeting was called for the purpose of considering and acting upon a proposition that the stockholders consent that a sale on the foreclosure judgment rendered in favor of the Finance company of Pennsylvania, against the company, April 5, 1910, might be made earlier than one year from that date. The proposition was discussed quite fully. It appears that the trustees and the owners of all the bonds of the company have stated in writing that they are in favor of an early sale, provided the stockholders of the Janesville Street Railway company would also consent. According to the law, a sale on the judgment of foreclosure could not be had prior to one year, unless the parties interested consent in writing that it might be held earlier.

A resolution was introduced authorizing the president and secretary of the Janesville Street Railway company to sign a stipulation consenting that a sale on the judgment of foreclosure may be made earlier than one year from the date of the judgment, with the understanding, however, that notice of the sale should be given by publication and the posting of notices, for at least six weeks. This resolution was unanimously adopted. It was understood that publication of the necessary notice would begin soon.

Quite a number of the stockholders were not present at the meeting, but so far as can be learned from personal interviews, none of them are opposed to an early sale of the property. There will then be no obstacle to the complete rehabilitation of the street railway.

It must be admitted, however, that the bondholders have treated the public very fairly. They consented that the receivers might borrow ten thousand dollars to make necessary repairs, and that the certificates issued for this loan might be paid first out of the proceeds arising from the sale of the property. A part of the proceeds of this loan has been used on Washington street, and yesterday about six tons of copper wire, to be used for overhead work, two carloads of poles, and two carloads of steel, arrived here, and are being unloaded today at the street car barn. The copper wire is of the same size as that used for overhead construction by the Rockford & Interurban Railway company. The poles will all have to be shaved, which will take some time, but the receivers say that it will not be long before the work on the overhead construction will begin. All the material for the work is now here.

FLOUR PRICES ARE ADVANCING STEADILY.

Orders for Jersey Lily Flour Booked And After Raising To $1.60.

On all orders for Jersey Lily Flour, from today on the price will advance to $1.60 per sack. You will remember it was stated some few days ago in these columns that the price would advance, yet even the slight rise to $1.50 is not as heavy a figure as is being asked for other brands than Jersey Lily in many of the stores. The wholesale price of flour today is $3.30 per bushel, a rise of $1.05. Since Mrs. Miller started her campaign in the interest of Jersey Lily flour, the price has been kept down to $1.50 per sack and all orders which have been given up to today, July 20th, if delivered to you prior to August 1st will be charged at the low price of $1.50 per sack. After August 1st, however, the price advances with the market. A word to hurry in your order for Jersey Lily flour to your favorite grocer is not amiss. You can save money by so doing.

Eat some Late Valencia Oranges

You'll like them. Sweet, rich and juicy they are unequalled for eating purposes. Eat some every day. Eat them for their health value. Physicians state that an orange eaten before each meal will so regulate the system as to make the call of a doctor a rare occurrence.

Oranges promote the action of the gastric juices—aid digestion—act mildly on the liver and are wonderfully cooling.

A carload of these oranges was distributed to the dealers today. Ask for Late Valencia's. These Late Valencia oranges are not of the usual high golden color of the average orange, in fact they look as though green, but just at one, you'll find all the sweetness and goodness inside. They are fully as good as the navel orange when in its prime state.

Buy Texas Elberta peaches now. We are distributing a carload to the dealers daily. Prices will be higher.

TELEGRAM SAYS, "SLAY REBELS"

MADRIZ ORDERS ALL PRISONERS SHOT WITHOUT A TRIAL.

SENDS ORDER TO COMMANDER

Telegram to Nicaraguan Successor to Zelaya intercepted by Revolutionists and sent to State Department.

New Orleans, July 20.—General Estrada, president of the Nicaraguan provisional government, has sent to Consul General Buchanan, in this city, an intercepted telegram sent by Jose Madriz, claimant to the Nicaraguan presidency, to Gen. Roberto Gonzalez, commander of the Madriz forces at San Ubaldo.

No Trial for Prisoners.
It instructs General Gonzalez to shoot without trial all rebels and prisoners that are taken by his men. The telegram which caused a thrill of horror through Central America is as follows:

"Campe Del Marti Managua.—To Gen. Roberto Gonzalez, San Ubaldo: I trust into your hands the salvation of the fatherland giving a severe lesson to the revolutionaries which are in that neighborhood. Shoot without fear or consideration the revolutionaries which you may capture by attack and prisoners which you may have. Give orders to leaders of your patrols to watch. There is danger on the road from San Ubaldo to Acayapa.

"Signed, Madriz, commanding general."

Two Rebels Are Shot.
The telegram has been forwarded to the state department and will be referred to the peace conference at The Hague. The telegram was captured by Gen. Luis Mena of the provisionals, who reports on the day it was received by Gonzalez two revolutionaries were shot at Chirico Muerto. The same day 15 prisoners taken by Estrada were released.

EX-SENATOR, HELD DEAD, JESTS.

Thomas W. Palmer, 81 Years Old, Recovered From Detroit Auto Crash.

Detroit, Mich., July 20.—Former Senator Thomas W. Palmer of Detroit was given up for dead by his physician after an automobile accident, but an hour later he was able to tell newspaper men the story of his mishap. Mr. Palmer's head was wrapped in bandages. He had sustained a scalp wound six inches long, his physicians said. His breast was bruised by flying parts of his smashed car, and his right leg was jammed so that he could hardly stand upon it. He insisted on limping out to meet his callers, however.

Mr. Palmer was returning in his touring car from Birmingham with a friend. The trolley tracks cross the road at an angle at the city limits. The chauffeur did not notice a car approaching and was just a moment too late in crossing. The auto was struck in the rear and smashed. Senator Palmer was thrown to the pavement, striking on his head.

FAIRBANKS TALKS TO AD. MEN.

Former Vice-President Is "Arrested" by Joking Delegates.

Omaha, Neb., July 20.—"Stun who will wantonly and maliciously assault our public servants, no matter what their politics, if they are faithful to public duty, are traitors to the state," said Charles W. Fairbanks in an address before the Advertising Clubs of America.

The delegates took great liberties with Mr. Fairbanks when they had the ex-vice-president arrested and in the police patrol, started ostensibly for the city jail, but instead carried him to the Field club, where he was the guest of honor at a luncheon, which had been prepared for him.

Mr. Fairbanks protested vigorously against the arrest, and it was not until the patrol drew up at the Field club that he detected the joke. He then laughed heartily over the whole affair.

DEMANDS $5,000 FOR LYNCHING.

Newark Mob Victim's Administrator Asks County to Pay.

Newark, O., July 20.—George Rohon, president of the Mercor National bank of Harrodsburg, Ky., and administrator of the estate of Carl Kiberington, the anti-union detective lynched here on July 8, made formal demand upon the Licking county authorities for the $5,000 damages authorized by the state to be paid by the county to the estate of persons lynched. Rohon stated that he would bring suit in the federal court for $40,000 damages against former Sheriff Linke and his bondsmen.

DR. CRIPPEN NOW IN SPAIN.

Man Believed to Be Alleged Wife-Slayer Left France, Is Reported.

Dr. Harold Les Bains, France, July 20.—A man answering the description of Doctor Crippen arrived here Sunday night. He left almost immediately for Spain. The police feared to arrest him without a warrant.

England Asks for Crippen's Arrest.

Washington, July 20.—The British government has asked the United States to arrest and detain Dr. H. H. Crippen wanted in London in connection with the murder of his wife, should he be found in America.

Almost Too Fast.

"No York," said Uncle Hooster, "is certainly a fast place. Burned if they don't start a-sellin' the evening papers that before breakfast."

OREGON G. O. P. WILL ASSEMBLE TOMORROW

Convention Called At Portland To Formulate Platform And Recommend a Ticket.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Portland, Ore., July 20.—The political situation in Oregon is already very interesting, but it promises to be much so after the State "assembly" or Republican meet in this city tomorrow. The purpose of the assembly is to formulate and adopt a party platform and to recommend to the Republican voters of the State a ticket for State, congressional and judicial officers to be nominated at the September primaries.

Those responsible for the "assembly" plan confidently declare that every county of the State will be represented at tomorrow's gathering. They declare, furthermore, that the assembly will be representative of the Republican party of Oregon in every sense of the word and that the ticket recommended by the assembly will undoubtedly be nominated at the primaries.

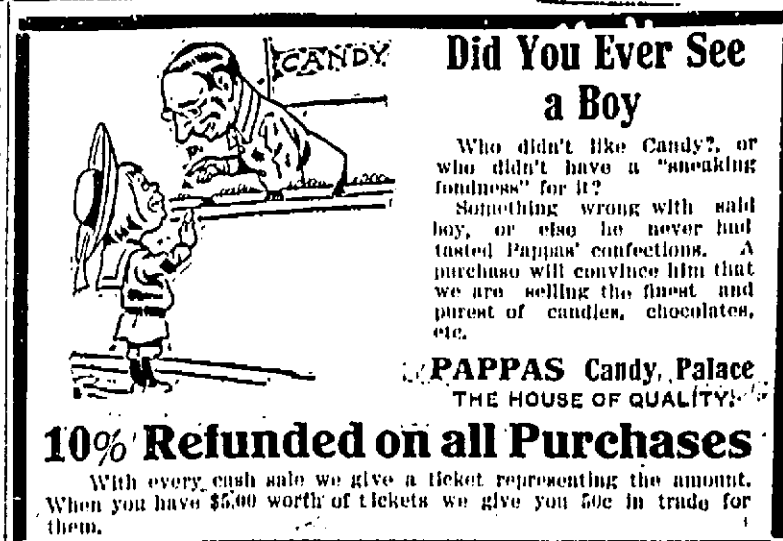

Despite these declarations a strong opposition to the "assembly" undoubtedly exists among many influential Republican leaders throughout the State. They declare that the whole scheme is contrary to the spirit and intention of the direct primary law and is a barefaced attempt on the part of the faction led by former Senator Joseph Simon to maintain control of the party machinery and defeat the will of the rank and file of Oregon Republicans.

Interest in the situation is heightened by the fact that Oregon this year elects a complete set of State officers from governor down, together with our judges of the supreme court, representatives in congress and members of the legislature.

Attention naturally centers upon the contest for the governorship, which office is now filled by Secretary of State Frank W. Benson, because of the election of Governor Chamberlain to the United States senate. Several names are mentioned in connection with the assembly's choice for the head of the ticket. Dr. Andrew C. Smith, a leading physician of Portland and a former member of the State senate, is an avowed candidate for the governorship and it is understood that his nomination would be satisfactory to Simon and other Republican leaders who are backing the assembly plan.

Examination of the formulary departments of leading drug stores throughout the country has proved that a very large percentage of the prescriptions filled for doctors are for proprietary medicines.

This is because the average doctor of today is unable to devise prescriptions equally as efficacious.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

TO BE able to give gracefully is a rather unusual talent. But to be able to receive gracefully is an infinitely rarer one.

The childish and prolonged squabbles we hear so often in street cars over the payment of fares are an excellent example of the inability of many of us to accept a favor simply and gracefully.

To protest and make much fuss and feathers about receiving a favor seems to be the popular idea of extremity.

As a matter of fact, it is extremely bad taste to protest a favor that you know in your heart you will accept in the end. Accept promptly and simply. Say "Thank you!" in the prettiest and most graceful way that you know how, but with as little fuss and feathers as possible, and you honor your benefactor far more than by going through a rigid role of protest.

I had the pleasure of meeting the other day a well-known woman of whose brilliancy and charm I had long heard, and the thing which impressed me about her, even more than her witty conversation and her beauty, was the perfect graciousness and simplicity with which she accepted it when another member of the party offered her a more comfortable chair.

There is, of course, such a thing as the self-worship which accepts all favors simply and ungraciously just because it looks upon them as tribute due.

But I do not mean that kind of simplicity. I mean the kind that seems to say, "You wish to do me a kindness. I thank you. I will try to honor you by accepting it as graciously as you give it, and some day I shall hope to have my turn at being donor."

The blessedness and happiness of giving is not a moral fiction. It is a live fact. To talk to by an ungracious reception is selfishness therefore.

I once knew a girl who for many years received an unusually good salary as a stenographer and had been lavishly generous with her earnings, doing good in every direction, and enjoying to the full the blessedness of giving. Her health gave way and she had to give up her position and go back to her home in the country.

Some of her friends and office mates, thinking it was a good opportunity to do by her as she had done by others, got together and made up a purse which they planned to give to her on her departure.

And she who had been indulging for years in the joy of giving refused to help others to do the same thing.

She indignantly refused the purse, saying that when she needed charity she would ask for it.

For, like many others, though pastmistress in the art of gracious giving, she did not know the A, B, C of the art of receiving.

Just as it is far easier to look down upon anyone with dignity than to look up and still be dignified, so it is far easier to give with graciousness than to receive.

But as he who has the true dignity may maintain it, no matter how often the accident of height forces him to look up, so he who has the true graciousness may maintain it no matter how constantly the accident of position and possessions forces him to give rather than to receive.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

By Rose Terrill.

The fly as a menace to human life has been so exploited that almost all homes are screened and great care taken in the disposal of garbage so that the pest may in time be exterminated. England has been busy fighting the fly for a much longer period than America, and it is said that the necessity for screens is very much less than in this country.

The housekeeper in village and country has a much more difficult problem than the city dweller, who has a garbage man and a sewerage system to aid her efforts. It behooves her therefore, to be doubly cautious in the disposal of all refuse that may help to breed the pest.

Disturbing supplies and should be freely used. The garbage which is fed to the pigs should be taken away promptly and the pens be as far away from the house as possible. They should also be kept as clean as the business of the farm will permit. Pigs that are kept in a better sanitary condition than was once demanded are said to be better food. It would seem so to the reasoning person. It is, therefore, part of the farmer's work to improve the condition of the pigs as well as to allow no other accumulation of filth.

Farm houses should be perfectly screened and every precaution taken. If the farm people would take up the matter seriously and set their shoulders to the wheel the fly would become extinct. As long as barn yard refuse is allowed to accumulate however, there will be the fly and its train of ills to contend with.

Breakfast is one of the most difficult meals to prepare in the summer time. The jaded appetite which has no desire is hard to tempt. Children who are not very strong come to the table and listlessly refuse ordinary food. It is well to try to tempt them for awhile, but it is not necessary to eat heartily in summer, but it is well to fortify one's stomach against the long morning, in which all the work of the day should be accomplished.

An egg chocolate will sometimes be acceptable and form an entire meal alone. It should be slipped slowly and not gulped down, as it is rather a heavy food.

To make it prepare a thick syrup the evening before, which should have cocoa stirred in till it is very strong. The egg should be beaten till light and then the syrup added and all shaken together. This to the taste with milk which is half cream and a glass will prove sufficiently sustaining for a child's breakfast.

To shake an egg in milk which is sweetened and has a bit of nutmeg in it will serve as a pleasant variety. The ingredients for both the egg chocolate and the egg in milk should be very cold and the drink should be slipped slowly.

Food should be served very hot and well buttered. Even in hot weather this rule should be adhered to strictly. Fresh fruits should be cold and even the sugar should be kept in a cool place. If the housekeeper will try to see that cold things are really cold and hot things really hot, her work will have gone forward a step in management.

The great volume of advertising carried in these columns is due to the great circulation of The Gazette. 6300 homes receive The Gazette daily and from this large number of homes many people are looking for just the things advertised each day.

Health foods and sanatoriums will not do half that a fine indomitable spirit and interest in life will accomplish.

For the sake of the next generation, refuse to grow old. Do too lively to photograph in the saint-like pose of the story book woman or man, and your reward will be in your own hand.

LACE COAT.

Here is an idea for the girl who is clever with her crochet needles. The above waist is soft white chiffon, with a deep belt of black satin, matching the wide bands on sleeves. The little collar opening over this blouse is of hand-crocheted lace. Frills of the white lace finish neck and cuffs.

BART BAILEY & CO

It is good! The writers of the walks for the old days and the carefully preserved ancestor are amusing. They detail the charm of the quaint old woman in the village who is fine and dainty and to whom they slip on holidays for rest. They never remember that rest which they save for emergencies, is the feat of eternal all the days of the year for the fine old gentlewoman. If mother had been taken to the city to live among the rapidly moving kaleidoscope of the daily life there, she would not now be asking, "How long, oh, Lord?"

Don't let the old days be dead. This dying to all the pomps and vanities of life at a certain age is all sentiment. It is wise to live sanely, no matter how old or how young you are, but it is never wise to allow part of the soul or body to atrophy or partially die.

Keep alert and alive to the interest of life. Be an amazing old man or woman if you cannot get recognition any other way. This is the grand towards longevity of the race.

BUCKS STOVE AND RANGE COMPANY IS UNIONIZED

St. Louis Concern That Waged Four-Year Fight on Gompers, Signs Up.

Cincinnati, July 20.—At a conference held here between representatives of the Bucks Stove & Range company of St. Louis and of several unions the matter in dispute was settled and written agreements were entered into. The stove plant will be a union shop. President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor came to Cincinnati and presided at the meeting which resulted in the settlement.

James W. Van Cleave, head of the Bucks company and former president of the National Association of Manufacturers, died May 16 last, after six years of incessant warfare against the Federation of Labor. His friends attributed his death, after six months' illness, to the strain of the fight he had waged since 1905 with union labor, which he had once described as a "murderous trust."

In the course of that fight he had obtained an injunction from the Supreme court of the District of Columbia, forbidding the federation to boycott his company or to print its name in the "unfair list" in the Federationist, the organ of the Gompers organization. For violating that injunction Judge Wright imposed a sentence of one year's imprisonment on Gompers, one of six months on Secretary Frank Morrison and one of nine months on John Mitchell.

The settlement of the differences between the company and the federation will not affect the case pending in the Supreme court, and that tribunal next winter is expected to pass on the question of whether the courts below violated freedom of speech or whether the labor men offended against law and order.

WISCONSIN F. OF L. IN SESSION.

Mayor of Watertown Delivers Welcome Address to Convention.

Watertown, Wis., July 20.—William Kaufman of Kenosha, chairman of the executive board, called to order today the convention of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor in the city hall. The mayor delivered a welcoming address and was followed by Frank J. Weber of Milwaukee, the general organizer. As usual, the convention will last four days.

The most important work before the federation is the formulation of the demands to be made upon the state legislature at Madison next winter. Foremost of these will be that for an industrial accident compensation act. The local committee has arranged for a mass meeting which will be addressed by Mayor Heide of Milwaukee, and has made plans for the entertainment of the delegates. Edwin Wright of the Illinois Federation is here to invite the Wisconsin body to participate in a joint meeting of state federations which will be held in Springfield, Ill., in October.

SEWS UP CUT IN MAN'S HEART.

Philadelphia Surgeon Operates on Joseph Spence, Who May Recover.

Philadelphia, July 20.—Holding the beating heart of a living man in the palm of his left hand while with his right he made five stitches between the beats into a wound made in the organ by a knife when the victim was stabbed during a quarrel, Dr. Francis T. Stewart probably saved the life of Joseph Spence, twenty-three.

Lawn Party.

A lawn party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smith was a pleasant affair of yesterday afternoon. Those who participated were Mr. and Mrs.
John Baker and family, Mr. and Mrs.
C. W. Leyda and children, the families of F. W. Hansen and Herman Tucker,
Mrs. Wm. Magee and children and
Dr. M. L. Ewing. A very nice picnic supper was served, a feature of which was that there were at one table seventeen children under ten years of age and the bright faces and merry chatter of the little ones was evidence that they enjoyed the occasion equally as much as the older ones.

The Girl and the Bill

By Bannister Merwin

ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS

"To begin with, Mr. Orme," he said, "I am charmed to meet you—very charmed." He rolled his "r's" after a fashion that need not be reproduced. "And in the second place," he continued, "while actually I am a foreigner in your dear country, I regard myself as in spirit one of your natives. I came here when a boy, and was educated at your great University of Princeton."

"You are a Portuguese—I infer from your name," said Orme. "Oh, dear, no! Oh, no, no, no!" exclaimed Senor Porfiro, tapping the floor nervously with his toes. "My country he freed himself from the Portuguese yoke many and many a year ago. I am a South American."

Mr. Orme—one of the poor relations of your great country. Again the widened smile. Then he suddenly became grave, and leaned forward, his hands on his knees. "But this is not the business of our meeting, Mr. Orme."

"No?" inquired Orme. "No, my dear sir. I have come to ask of you about the five-dollar bill which you received in the hat shop this afternoon." He peered anxiously. "You still have it? You have not spent it?"

"A marked bill, was it not?" "Yes, yes. Where is it, my dear sir, where is it?"

"Written across the face of it were the words, 'Remember person you pay this to.'"

"Oh, you, yes."

"And on the back of it—"

"On the back of it!" gasped the little man.

"Was a curious cryptogram."

"Do not torture me!" exclaimed Senor Porfiro. "Have you got it?" His fingers worked nervously.

"Yes," said Orme slowly, "I still have it."

Senor Porfiro hastily took a fresh five-dollar bill from his pocket. "See," he said, jumping to the floor, "here is another just as good a bill. I give this to you in return for the bill which was paid to you this afternoon." He thrust the new bill toward Orme, and waved his other hand rhetorically.

"That, and that alone, is my business with you, dear sir."

Orme's hand went to his pocket. The visitor watched the motion eagerly, and a grimace of disappointment contracted his features when the hand came forth, holding a cigar case.

"Have one," Orme urged.

In his anxiety the little man almost danced. "But, sir," he broke forth, "I am in desperate hurry. I must meet a friend. I must catch a train."

"One moment," interrupted Orme. "I can't very well give up that bill until I know a little better what it means. You will have to show me that you are entitled to it—and—"

"Lopez," replied Senor Porfiro promptly; and Orme knew that the answer might as well have been Smith. But the little man returned quickly to his story.

"My friend had no strength left. He was, oh, so weak that I went to see him. But he sent the doctor and the priest out of the room, and then—"

He was whispering in my ear a secret. He had discovered rich gold in the Urinaba country. He had been trying to earn money to go back and dig up the gold. But, alas! now he was dying, and he wished to give the secret to me, his old friend."

"Tears streamed on my cheek," Senor Porfiro's eyes filled, seemingly at the remembrance. "But I took out my fountain pen to write down the directions he wished to give, and—"

He produced a gold-mounted tube from his waistcoat.

"I searched my pockets for a piece of paper. None could I discover. There was no time to be lost, for my friend was growing weaker, oh, very fast. In desperation I took a five-dollar bill, and wrote upon it the directions he gave me for finding the gold. Even as I finished it, dear Lopez breathed his last breath."

Orme puffed at his cigar. "He the bill carried directions for finding a rich deposit in the Urinaba mountains?"

"Yes, my dear sir. But you would not rob me of it. You could not understand the directions."

"Oh, no," Orme laughed. "I have no interest in South American gold mines."

"Then accept this fresh bill," implored Senor Porfiro, "and give me back the one I yearn for."

Orme hesitated. "A moment more," he said, "tell me, how did you lose possession of the marked bill?"

The South American writhed in his chair and leaned forward eagerly. "That," he exclaimed, "I had left Chicago at a time when my presence in this great city was very important indeed. Nothing but the call from a dying friend would have induced me to go away. My whole future in this country depended upon my returning in time to complete certain business."

"So, after dear Lopez was dead, I rushed to the local railroad station."

"A train" was coming in. I searched my pocket for my money to buy my ticket. All I could find was the five-dollar bill!"

"It was necessary to return to Chicago; yet I could not lose the bill. A happy thought struck me. I wrote upon the face of it the words you have seen, and paid it to the ticket agent. I called his attention to the writing and implored him to save the bill if he could until I returned, and if not, to be sure to remember the person he gave it to."

Orme laughed. "It does seem funny," said Senor Porfiro, rolling another cigarette, "but you cannot imagine my most frantic desperation. I returned to Chicago and transacted my business. Then I hastened back to the Wisconsin city. I was in luck! The ticket agent had paid the bill to a Chicago citizen. I secured the name of this man and finally found him at his office on La Salle street. Alas! he, too, had spent the bill, but I tracked it from person to person, until now, my dear sir, I have found it? So—" he paused and looked eloquently at Orme.

"Do you know a man named Evans?" Orme asked.

Senor Porfiro looked at him in bewilderment.

"S. R. Evans," insisted Orme.

"Why, no, dear sir—I think not. But what has that to do—?"

Orme pushed a sheet of paper across the table. "Oblige me, Senor Porfiro, the table." "Oblige me, Senor Porfiro, the table."

Senor Porfiro was apparently reluctant. However, under the compulsion of Orme's eye, he finally took out his fountain pen and wrote the name in flowing script. He then pushed the paper back toward Orme, with an inquiring look.

"No, that isn't what I mean," exclaimed Orme. "Print it. Print it in capital letters."

Senor Porfiro slowly printed out the name.

Orme took the paper, laying it before him. He then produced the coveted bill from his pocketbook. Senor Porfiro uttered a little cry of delight and stretched forth an eager hand, but Orme, who was busily comparing the letters on the paper with the letters on the bill, waved him back.

After a few moments Orme looked up. "Senor Porfiro," he said, "why didn't you write the secret on a time-table, or on your ticket, before you gave the bill to the agent?"

Senor Porfiro was flustered. "Why," he said uncertainly, "I did not think of that. How can I explain the mistakes we make in moments of great nervousness?"

"True," said Orme. "But one more point. You did not yourself write your friend's secret on the bill. The letters which you have just printed are differently made."

Senor Porfiro said nothing. He was breathing hard.

"On the other hand," continued Orme, turning the bill over and eyeing the inscription on its face, "your mistake in first writing the name instead of printing it shows me that you did write the words on the face of the bill." He returned the bill to his pocketbook. "I can't give you the bill," he said. "Your story doesn't hold together."

With a queer little scream the South American bounded from his chair and lunged himself at Orme. He struck no blow, but clawed desperately at Orme's pocket. The struggle lasted only for a moment. Orme, seizing the little man by the collar, dragged him, wriggling, to the door.

"Now get out," said Orme. "If I find you hanging around I'll have you locked up."

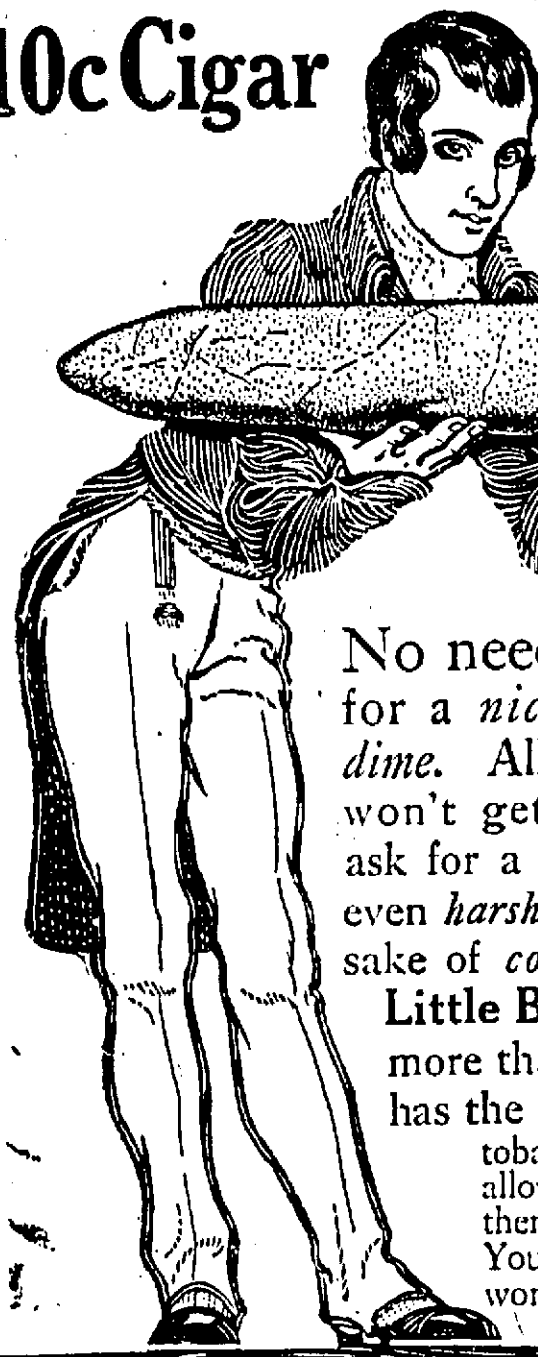

Senor Porfiro whispered: "It is my secret. Why should I tell you the truth about it? You have no right to know."

To be continued.

Little Bobbie 5c Cigar

stands upon the reputation made and maintained by

Robert Burns 10c Cigar

Different—only in size and price, but alike in leaf, labor and delight.

No need now to get less value for a nickel than you've had for a dime. All stores sell both sizes. You won't get the right cigar if you just ask for a light cigar. Strong tobacco is even harsher when harvested green for the sake of color. The Robert Burns and Little Bobbie are more than color-mild, more than wrapper-mild. The filler has the same gentle qualities. Made of tobacco which is mild by nature—which is allowed to ripen fully on the plantation and then fully cured before it reaches the bench. You can smoke 'em all day and your health won't notice the difference.

Talk to An Audience of 14,000 Voters Through the Gazette

The political candidate who wishes to reach the voters has an audience in the Gazette subscribers, many times larger than he can gather in any other way, and he can talk to this audience at much less expense through the columns of the Gazette (Daily and Semi-Weekly) than through any other medium.

Every political candidate knows the necessity of publicity and knows the value of getting a good argument before the people.

The Gazette's columns are open to candidates of both political parties but no advertising is acceptable that is slanderous in any way. Talking against an opponent is not as effective as good "reasons why" you should be supported.

For political advertising, the rate has been made special at 25c per inch. This is somewhat less than the transient rate for advertising and it will be the same to all candidates whether large or small space is used.

An announcement this size in Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette would cost $11.25 and its remarkably cheap distribution when you remember that 14,000 voters will receive it.

If the Daily Gazette is used only, the cost would be $7.50 and the number of voters reached would be over 10,000.

Don't head your announcement "Mr. Voter," tell something more to the point. This advertisement might have been headed "Mr. Candidate," but it would not be as effective as the above head.

If you have an argument to present to the people and you know what you say to say, but are in doubt as how to say it and how to display it, this department will lend its services to get you the best results from the space.

DAILY DIET HINTS

ENTIRE WHEAT BREAD PREVENTS CONSTIPATION

White bread is the broken "staff of life." It may look prettier on the table and it may taste better to some, but it is altogether inferior to the bread made from the entire grain. The germ and the outer coating are removed in the modern milling process, and this adapts the product to commercial purposes, for every housewife knows that entire wheat flour (if she has ever had pure ground wheat) spoils much sooner than the emasculated starch product. The entire wheat kernel contains every element of food in nearly the normal proportion for perfect nutrition, while the white flour is deficient in the mineral elements, contained chiefly in the brown coating. White bread is also deficient in the coarse waste matter which supplies the normal stimulus to peristaltic action of the intestines that prevents constipation. Fresh white bread is not only insufficient, but, in combination with meat, is the chief cause of constipation and appendicitis.

✻ FORTY YEARS AGO ✻

Janesville Daily Gazette, July 20, 1870.—Base Ball.—The Potter Palmers of Chicago Defeated by the Mutuals—Score 63 to 14.—The game yesterday failed to attract a very large crowd; it was somewhat owing to the heat, but more to the fact that whatever our boys have advertised as "Chicago" club, the option has prevailed in the minds of the public, and out of respect and sympathy they had for the Mutuals they remained away altogether. The playing of the Mutuals was excellent. Leneghen pitched in splendid style, not letting a ball pass him during the entire game. Hulse pitched so well that the visitors could do nothing at all with him. Heller at first, Conant at left field, Becknell at short, and in fact every member of the nine played in the best possible manner. The batting was terrible; both Heller and F. Smith succeeded in making a clean home run, and third base were common occurrences. On the part of the Potter Palmers, their batting was fair but their hitting weak. The score at the end of six innings stood 53 to 14 in favor of our boys and in order to enable the visitors to leave for Madison at 7:20 the game was called at his time.

Jottings.—Hulse, the pitcher for the Mutuals, walked ten miles yesterday, to be able to be present at the game with the Chicago club.

The attendance at the Russian concert, last evening, was extremely light, owing, partially, to the threatening weather. The performance was fully equal to that of the night before, and those who listened are abundantly satisfied. That the Association lost money by the enterprise can only be regretted.

Mr. Matthews, of the Potter Palmer baseball club, sprained his ankle yesterday, during their game with the Mutuals.

The Perfect Foot.
A woman's foot, when perfect, is followed out well, both inside and out, with a high instep, short heel and long, straight toes, slightly upturned at the ends.

This is the type of the most beautiful foot. It is, on the whole, a foot not frequently seen in its perfection, for often one or the other element of beauty is wanting. The rarest point of beauty is the hollowing of the outside of the foot.

If anyone would convince himself that the hollow of the outside of the foot is rare, let him watch the prints that seaside bathers leave when they step on a dry plank or log. Most of such footprints show a greater or smaller hollow on the inside of the foot, but nearly every one shows a straight well mark on the outside, says Woman's Life.

That water should flow under the arch of the foot without wetting it is an odd and good rule where feet are concerned.

Wonder of Nature.
During the course of a voyage recently, when midway between Marcellus and the Strait of Bonifacio, a "green flash" was seen at sunset. The sky was perfectly clear after a cloudless day, with little wind. As the sun approached the horizon the line 'twixt sea and sky for about forty days ago green each side of the sun became suffused with a rich dull rose pink and the waves reflected a marvelous ruby shade on their surfaces facing the sun set, while the other faces wore an opalescent blue or green from the upper sky. The two colors flashed and changed in a marvelous way. Such intensity of coloring had never been seen by those on board. The sun set clean into the sea and about ten or less seconds after it had disappeared a bright green signal flash, just like a railway signal lamp, but brighter far, met our view and rewarded our watching for it.—Symon's Meteorological Magazine.

Here's Your Chance For a Farm!

Big Lumbermen Have Turned Over 500,000 Acres in Wisconsin to American Immigration Company For Settlement.

GRANT LAND SALE IS ON!
Quit the up-hill fight as a tenant farmer. Here's a chance for a farm of your own, the tip to Wisconsin! Grow up with Wisconsin! Put your money and muscle and vim into buying, clearing and developing a farm that will make you independent.

The American Immigration Company of Chicago, Ill., has come into possession of a total of over half a million acres in the very heart of Wisconsin.

Over 150,000 acres of this rich undeveloped land lies in the Round Lake Country, Sawyer county, alone. A country of abundant rainfall and the purest of water.

This is the best of all the ROUND LAKE WISCONSIN FARM LAND and the settlers and investors are snapping it up at $2.50 to $3.00 per acre, on ten year's time.

The company is making these remarkably low prices and easy terms because its great development plans center in Sawyer County.

New towns are being laid out, railroads are coming and great progress is being made by the settlers already there.

The soil is a rich, sandy loam, with clay sub-soil, or a clayey loam soil, both particularly adapted for dairy farming, stock raising and the production of big crops of wheat, oats, barley, timothy, clover, tobacco, sugar beets and all kinds of vegetables.

Stock raising is very profitable. Write at once for maps, books and full information. Also inquire of the local representatives of the American Immigration Company.

SUPPORT FOR PLANT
Device Trains Flowers Straight and Holds Them Up.

An Ohio man has designed a useful little article in the plant support shown herewith. It is made of galvanized iron wire and will last as long as the owner so in the long run it is cheaper than sticks and much more satisfactory in every way. The upright standard of the support consists of wires running parallel to each other except at intervals, where they converge and engage each other. There are other circular pieces of wire with forwardly projecting prongs which can be fastened on the standard.

THINGS ARE ADJUSTABLE.

at any of the points where the shires converge, thus forming a shoulder in which to hang the prongs. These rings, it will be seen, can be moved up and down the standard to accommodate the growing plant and placed where most needed. Many plants that are strong and healthy when young turn out badly because they are not properly trained and with this support they can be given the proper direction. Aside from its other advantages, the device is much more attractive than the usual unsightly stick used for this purpose.

Frank advertising may attract attention for a few days, but unless it is not only outlandish but also impractical upon the public mind. A laugh today may develop into a frown of disgust tomorrow. Money spent on frank advertising seldom brings satisfactory returns.
